Strike notices were filed against two of the automobile industry's three leading producers today as John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers ended their safety shut-out of the three big June 30 strike hung over the soft coal industry.

The nationwide telephone strike, meanwhile, entered its second week with the press predicting a slight and the CIO promised "effective cooperation" for the Independent National Federation of Telephone Workers to assist "the telephone workers in their just demands."

The Ford Motor company was threatened with a strike of super-

Victory employees by mid-May as the Independent Foreman's Association of American Executive Board approved filing of a 30-day strike notice. The Chrysler Corporation was served Saturday with a 30-day strike notice as CIO-UAW officials reported no progress in negotiations covering Chrysler's 75,000 workers.

As General Motors, the other member of the industry's top triumvirate, is expected to launch UAW action on an offer of 10 cents an hour wage increase, the corporation and the CIO United Automobile Radio and Machine Workers and GM jointly announced an agreement providing for a 15-cent an hour wage hike. The UAW-CIO represents approximately 300,000 of the 388,000 production workers and had been extended the 10 cent offer along with the UAW-CIO.

The UAW executive board is expected to discuss the proposal tomorrow in New York. The corporation had announced the proposal as an interim hike to last until August when it said it again would make an offer.

In negotiations with Chrysler and General Motors, the CIO-UAW has demanded a 23 1-2 cents an hour increase and is expected to make a similar demand in Ford wage contract negotiations begin in May.

This was the labor picture elsewhere:

Washington—Senator Alben Barkley (D., Ky.) called the Ohio, of "political bossism" union-curb bills moved nearer congressional approval.

St. Louis—Publication of the St. Louis Post-Dispatch as the Ohio Democrat was halted last night a walkout of the AFL Pressmen Union, but, in Knoxville, Tenn. George L. Berry, international president of the Teamsters, called the walkout "unauthorized" and said he was ordering the pressmen back to work.

 NOTICE
 The point of view of John L. Lewis in calling for a five-day stoppage in the soft coal mines can be understood. He asked it of the United Mine Workers as a memorial and a protest for the 111 miners killed in the Centralia, Ill., mine disaster. Lewis accuses the government of criminal negligence, since the mines were under government management and evidences are said to exist of inadequate safety provisions in the Centralia mine.
 Certainly the nation which needs coal should insist that coal be dug with guaranteed safety to the miners. But is this strike a sensible way to accomplish it? In the first place it costs the miners, 400,000 of them, five days pay. The miners can't afford this. Their dead companions would not expect them and their dependents to undergo such hardship. Further, the country loses ten million tons of coal and at this stage all the people, miners included, suffer from such disruption of already unbalanced production.
 The Southern Coal Producers Association suggests that a much better way to mourn their lost comrades would be to contribute from the union treasury and to ask the miners to work overtime and contribute that extra pay to the families of the men who died. As a leader of miners, Lewis does not always serve them well.
COMRADE BABIES
 In most towns and neighborhoods there are one or two of these modern specialists called "baby sitters." Any woman, young or old, can let it be known that she will baby-sit and promptly have all the demands for her time she can handle.
 Mother needs some time off from her offspring in order to function at her highest efficiency and graciousness while she is with them. And it is good for Mother and Dad to get off by themselves occasionally for a little run just by way of reminding them of courtship days. But isn't the baby sitting need being over-emphasized? Why can't parents arrange their recreation to include the children—not always, but sometimes?
 Picnic days are coming. Baby can be made comfortable in the car, his food and necessary clothing can be tucked in along with sandwiches for parents. A few pleasant and inexpensive hours can be spent at a public park, or out in the country somewhere. If pleasant and available places are not too far, it wouldn't be a bad idea to use the perambulator for baby and picnic essentials. A pleasant walk would benefit the whole family.
 Babies grow out of being babies pretty fast. If well taught from the beginning, they need not be nuisances but pleasant companions for parents. They pick up a sense of family unity early if encouraged. Family outings contribute to that unity which helps to build character.
END OF DRAFT
 This nation's Selective Training Act of 1940 has passed out of existence, but remains an honorable memory and a distinguished pattern of what a peaceful nation can do in time of national peril. Surely never in human history has such a big and essential military task been so cleanly and effectively accomplished. It has been great in spirit and great in execution.
 May we never have to

HOME TOWN FRIENDS
 It is no motor, train or ship. There is nothing like a trip to some distant town or city. For the mind at times will dry, and the heart's best prescription is a little change of scene. But the best of all the tonic is to find among the strangers just a friend or two from home.
 It is good to view the ocean from a beach of golden sand. To see a rugged mountain, down to dusk, I'll gladly stand. This old world is filled with wonders for the eyes of all to see. There is grandeur in abundance, whether the scene be land or sea. But the finest sight I know of, however, is the place. Is that glorious smile of greeting on a long-familiar face.
 Of all the thrills of travel the most rapturous I know is that shouted word of welcome from a friend of old ago. One you missed, but not forgotten, with the passing of the years.
 Oh, there is no joy just like it, when he suddenly appears. For the finest sight I know of, it is to see the stranger's familiar face from home.
 perform this task again. But if we should, we shall know again with redoubled assurance that we are equal to the call. This nation has never taken up arms without necessary and honorable cause, and has never laid them down again until the cause was accomplished. So may it be through the future years.
CAR HOGGERS
 Seeing the new car in the showroom, the would-be purchaser said hopefully, "I suppose these lists of people who have applied for cars aren't really as long as they look. A good many must have their names on five or six lists, and when they finally get a car on one, they take their names off the rest."
 "Don't be so sure of that," said the dealer. "I know a number of persons who get all the cars they can. There is a man on the next street who has bought five cars this spring. No, he doesn't sell them; he divides them up among the family. Before the war he never thought of having more than two. Seems as if the scarcity of cars had gone to his head."
 This is a free country and every man is allowed to buy 20 cars if he can afford it. But when he exercises his privilege to hog the available supply, and a lot of persons who need new cars cannot get them, it burns them up.
WORTH IN WASHINGTON
 It is generally conceded that the days immediately ahead are fateful ones for Americans. The responsibility for high decisions rests with Congress.
 It is fortunate for the 80th Congress that the Reorganization Act passed by the preceding Congress makes that body more efficient. By combining and eliminating the number of Senate and House committees, by providing representatives with help for research and petty detail, the present Congress already has been able to make progress in meeting some of the Nation's problems. President Truman has shown himself ready to relinquish war powers and eager to cooperate with Congress. Republican members have been standing firmly with him in matters involving the nation as a whole.
 The American people at this time of crisis have much to be thankful for in their elected leaders. It is the nature of Americans to criticize their political standard-bearers, and it is a healthy evidence of democracy. However it is equally important now and then for citizens to recognize worth when it exists among those elected to carry on the affairs of the nation.
 Some bright guy is always breaking loose with a cheerful prophecy that we're soon going to be masters of the world. Gosh! Haven't we got enough troubles already?
 The most cautious man we've heard of lately is the lifetime bachelor in South Bend, Ind., aged 101, who says he would be willing to marry some time if he could find the right woman.

STATE HOME LADS REPEATED AS AREA TWO TRACK CHAMPS
 The State Home Lad tracksters again won the Area 2 Interscholastic League Track and Field Meet Saturday when they piled up 41 points to 33 1-2 for Valley Mills in a hard-fought meet in Fort Worth. Alvarado came in a close third, getting 33 points to trail the Valley Mills thirteenth by a half point.
 The Lads piled up 5 firsts, two seconds and four third places to take the meet. Both of the Lad relay teams, the 440 and the mile, came through with firsts to give the State Home a base to work on. Billy Earl Phillips loped home first in the 880, Albert Taler captured first in the 440 dash and Kenner Boyce completed the list of first places by taking the high jump.
Lost By Inches
 Coach Corner had hoped to capture firsts in the broad jump and 100-yard dash, but Pillsows lost by inches in the dash, and Carrington took a second in the distance leap.
 Third places went to James Lawrence in the 120 high hurdles, Jim Pillsows in the 220 dash, Kenner Boyce in the shot put and George Phinnell in the mile run. Clyde Carrington placed fourth in the 200 yard low hurdles and Tremon Elrod did likewise in the 800 yard run to round out the Lad point-making.
 Competition was much stiffer this year than last, Corner reported. The Lads won last year by an 11-0 margin, but this year's outcome was in doubt much of the time.
 Curtis Jones, Lad dash man, tried to compete, but a leg injury allowed him to drop out of the meet after the qualifications.
Stiffer Competition
 The Lad thin-clads are faced with the Regional meet some time this week in Dallas, and will be up against even stiffer competition than that offered in Fort Worth. They will be running against Class A and AA schools.
 To make as good a showing as possible, Corner has made a few changes in his entries. Chief among these are Jimmy Lawrence's entry in the high hurdles, George Phinnell's entry in the 440 dash, and Pillsows' try at the discus.
 The other entries from the State Home competed in the Interscholastic League tennis matches preceding the track events in Fort Worth last Friday. Prentiss Phillips took second in the boy's singles, while Eva Letz Downey captured third in the girls' singles.

Anti-Rent Ceiling Association Meets
 Charges that there are "more than 100 family units vacant in Corsicana right now, and are not for rent under price control," were made Sunday at a meeting of the Anti-Rent Ceiling Association, according to J. J. Newsom, chairman.
 The meeting was held at 405 West Seventh avenue.
 Newsom said that despite bad weather, delegations from Navarro, Ellis and Kaufman counties attended the session.
 "Reports were made on the work of the organization in these various towns, and plans made for future activities," Newsom said.
 The consensus of opinion was that rent control must go, in the best interests of landlord and tenants. More than 100 family units are vacant in Corsicana right now, and not for rent under price control. No houses for rent will be built in the future so long as rent ceiling stays on, and evictions are impossible for any cause."
 County roads were damaged by the hard rains and considerable erosion was noted.
 Storm sewers in Corsicana were flooded Saturday night during the downpour, and many streets resembled streams. The Saturday night rainfall was accompanied by considerable electrical disturbances, but no serious damage was reported.
 Chambers, Briar, Mill and other streams were out of banks Sunday afternoon. Richland creek was almost bank full Monday morning.

Wants Road Ditches Cleared Of Trash
 Citizens of Precinct 2 were requested to refrain from throwing rubbish into the road ditches and building fences in the road ditch-ances, in a statement made here Monday by Commissioner Carl McMullan of Chaffield, in which he seeks the co-operation of everyone concerned.
 McMullan said that in some instances, terraces had been built across road ditches, blocking waterways.
 The commissioner discussed the cutting of brush and trees and allowing it to fall into the road ditches. He said the removal of brush, etc., from road ditches was costly to the county.
 "Give me the road ditches and I will give you better roads," was the proposition made by the commissioner to his constituents.
RESOLVED, that we bear this loving testimony to the singular beauty and fruitfulness of her spirit-filled life, and also to our personal sense of irreparable loss. Loving God supremely and her neighbor as herself, she gave herself to a life of faithful service. For many years she had been a loyal and efficient member, always delighted when she could meet with us. When in her later years, her physical condition kept her away, she was present in spirit.
 That we extend to the sorrowing family our deepest sympathy and commend them to His care, who said, "I will not leave you comfortless."
 That a copy of these resolutions be recorded in our minutes, a copy be sent to her family, and a copy be sent to the local paper for publication.—COMMITTEE.

Two Brothers And Wives Killed In Plane Explosion
 ADA, Okla., April 14.—(P)—Two brothers and their wives were killed here yesterday when their private airplane exploded near here at an altitude of approximately 200 feet.
 Dead were Tom Norris, 28, and his wife Virginia, of Paris, Texas, and his brother Frank Norris, 35, and his wife, Wilma.
 Frank Fulton, on whose farm the plane crashed, gave an eyewitness account of the accident. He said the plane exploded in a burst of flame, scattering the parts of the aircraft over a wide area.
 The badly mangled bodies of the four people were found near the plane's fuselage.
 The four were enroute back to Ada from a week-end trip to Hot Springs, Ark.
 Frank Norris was president of the First National Bank of Ada. Tom Norris was an officer of the Norris Cotton Oil Mills firm which operates in North Texas. He was the owner of the crashed plane and was an army air force pilot in World War II, in both the European and China-Burma theaters.

ROUTINE MATTERS OCCUPIED SESSION OF COMMISSIONERS

MONTHLY REPORTS
HEARD, SCHOOL TRUSTEE
ELECTIONS CANVASSED

Routine matters were considered at the regular meeting of the commissioners court Monday morning. All members were present. Minutes of previous meetings were approved. Claims were allowed except as noted on the claim docket.

The application of William Hollingsworth of Blooming Grove, constable Precinct 5, for the appointment of Lucy Griffin of Frost as a deputy constable was granted. The order said that the deputy's salary is not to exceed $100 per month, to be paid out of the fees earned and collected in the office.

Monthly Reports
The monthly reports of the Corsicana-Navarro County Health Units and the extension service agents and assistants were received and filed. Miss Eva Sre Merritt and Miss Frances Riley, county agent and assistant, respectively, met with the court and presented their reports.

L. Powell, county judge, was authorized by the court to enter a contract with the Gulf Oil Corporation for the installation of a gasoline pump in the jail yard for the use of Sheriff David Castles and his deputies.

Members of the court referred to their recent trip to Austin for a hearing in which a $100,000 additional two-cent levy in gasoline tax was sought, to be used for farm-to-market roads and school. The proposal has been reported out favorably by the committee, 12 to 5.

Trustee Elections
The court canvassed and declared the results of the various trustee elections at the Monday afternoon session of court.

Fred M. Copeland, county commissioner from Purley, spoke of representatives of oil companies drilling wells several hundred feet in depth on county road right-of-way without permission. He said there were some instances where flowing water wells resulted, and in other instances undermined the roadbed, causing damages. Several wells have been drilled in the Union High area during recent weeks, the commissioner stated.

Seeks Relief
I. W. Moody, Blooming Grove, discussed the loss of eight pear trees in front of his home one mile south of Blooming Grove in the construction of the farm-to-market road from Blooming Grove to Purdon. He said he was not threatening a suit, but would like to have some help. The trees were planted in 1916. Judge Powell said that it had been the policy of the commissioners court not to use any tax money to buy right-of-way or pay damages on farm-to-market roads that benefit primarily the communities through which the road traverses. He said there were some suits pending. Two property owners gained judgments on the Elm Flat road south of Powell in suits brought in district court, but the amount of the judgments were paid by the other property owners on that lateral road.

Miss Julia Callicutt, Corsicana, area supervisor for the Texas Department of Public Welfare, requested additional room for the county set-up for this agency. The agency is now located in the southeastern corner of the basement at the courthouse.

LEGISLATURE

houses and to the governor's desk for signature.

One of Two Ways
So Clifton's attitude on waiting might affect the senate one of two ways, depending entirely on the philosophy of the senators:

1. If the senate leans toward the Clifton tax, which would apply directly to the public consumer, the senate might seek immediate action to kill the McLennan measure and this bring on the Clifton bill.

2. If the senate inclines to agree with Gov. Beauford H. Jester that no new taxes are needed, then it will probably stall as long as possible.

Some persons wondered last week if the governor might be relenting slightly on his no-new-tax stand when he said in a statewide speech that Texas' industrial opportunity must not be lost by ill-advised tax legislation.

Observers noted that the governor said "ill-advised" rather than "new" tax legislation.

Choice of Tax Bills
Other considerations facing the senate in its choice of tax bills are these:

1. The use to which the additional revenue would be put.

2. How much revenue, if any, is needed.

McLennan's tax on the gathering of natural gas would yield an estimated additional $28,000,000 a year to be divided equally for building rural roads and for increasing school teachers' salaries to $2,000 a month, if possible. That's $14,000,000 for farm roads and $14,000,000 for teachers. (The $28,000,000 estimate is considered conservative.)

Gasoline Tax
Davis' increased tax on gasoline would yield an estimated additional $28,000,000 a year at the present rate of gasoline consumption by automobiles, trucks and buses operating in Texas.

Under the proposed allocation formula and in accordance with present laws, one-fourth of this increase would go to the available free school fund but is not earmarked for the specific purpose of raising teachers' pay. One-fourth would go to counties for road building, one-fourth to the county and road district highway fund, and the remainder to the state highway fund.

That's $7,000,000 additional for teachers. Counties which presently rely on the state highway department for all their road-building would get one-fourth of the total gasoline tax revenue, or about $22,000,000, which they would administer separately and independently to build their own roads.

For her wedding costume the bride selected a dressmaker suit of citrus wool garnished with navy blue accessories. She carried a prayer book topped with baby's calla lilies and stephanotis.

MRS. R. S. McDONALD RECEIVES LETTER FROM GRAND-DAUGHTER TOURING MANY POINTS IN EUROPE

Miss Carnon Crowder of Dallas was the bride's only attendant, and Joseph Gras, Yorktown, was her brother's best man.

A reception was held immediately following the ceremony at the Virginia Carroll Lodge. Assisting in the house party were Misses Doris and Dorothy Hawthorne, Streetman, Bertha Gras, Yorktown, and Laura Jean Taylor, Commerce.

The bride is a former student of B. T. S. T. C. and T. S. W. Junior College. The bridegroom is a senior student at Texas A&M College.

After a wedding trip to New Orleans, the couple will be at home in College Station.

Mrs. R. S. McDonald had a letter recently from her grand-daughter, Mrs. Wm. E. Kieffer, former Margaret McDonald of San Antonio, who is touring Europe with her husband, Col. Kieffer, now stationed at the American Embassy in London, England.

Mrs. Kieffer is a daughter of John McDonald of San Antonio, and has been a frequent visitor in the home of her grandmother here.

When the letter to Mrs. McDonald was written, Col. and Mrs. Kieffer had just toured Geneva, Switzerland, where they visited the League of Nations Building, the Woodrow Wilson memorial building, and other places of interest.

The next city on their itinerary was Aix-les-Bains, where the fashionable spa for steam baths. The drive to the city was made through the chateau country, where the valleys are filled with vineyards and cheese factories.

The villages remind one of Hansel and Gretel settings, and the people, especially the old people, are very small, Mrs. Kieffer wrote.

The next day was spent in the Alps where Col. and Mrs. Kieffer followed Napoleon's route. They noted stone pillars along the route carrying the names of young men that were taken from the villages and shot as renegades for German soldiers.

After a diet of stone-age ruins scattered over peaks and cr. Col. and Mrs. Kieffer came down from the mountains to Grasse, a town of milk and honey, and the last town one sees before viewing the Mediterranean. Grasse has the same architecture and landscape that one notes in Hollywood, but is more colorful, Mrs. Kieffer stated.

The Kieffer's next stop was Nice, which reminds one of a necklace encircling the blue bay of the bay, and resembles the pictures of Rio de Janeiro. Outdoor cafes and bright painted sunshades stretch for a mile along the water front, and every other vehicle is a fire, with the driver in silk hat and the horse adorned with garlands of flowers, Mrs. Kieffer stated.

"Our hotel suite is in pale blue satin damask with furniture of polished fruitwood and pale yellow marble. Even the walls are satin, and from our iron balconies we can see the French windows, which reach to the ceiling, we can see the water of the blue Mediterranean, Mrs. Kieffer wrote.

From Nice, Col. and Mrs. Kieffer stated that they were planning to visit Cannes, Monte Carlo and finally Paris before returning to London.

Meeting Scheduled.
A meeting of the county agricultural committee has been set for Thursday, April 17, at the AAA office in the courthouse, Cline Young, ACA administrator, announced Monday. The session is set for 10 a. m. The biggest item of business will be a general discussion of the agricultural program for the remainder of 1947.

Workers and the Trailmobile company of Cincinnati, from a decision by the U. S. Circuit court in Cincinnati which held that a veteran's pre-service seniority rights extend beyond his first year of reemployment.

The union and company asserted the decision would affect hundreds of thousands of non-veterans as well as veterans.

The supreme court majority took the position that after a year the veteran loses such protection from the Selective Service Act as gave him preferred standing during the year over employees not veterans but having identical seniority rights at the time he returned to his job.

CONGRESS

Senator Taft (R-Ohio) had practiced "high-handed political bossism" in the handling of labor legislation by the senate Republicans.

Alken's accusation came as the senate labor committee, headed by Taft, gathered in a tense atmosphere to complete work on its own labor bill. The criticism was leveled off by a division of the senate Republican membership to keep the labor legislation tied up in a single measure.

The house rules committee ordered six hours of general debate, the equivalent of two days, followed by unlimited time for consideration of amendments if the house wishes.

House labor committee Republicans, with four Southern Democrats siding in, said in the majority report that the labor bill "would be scrupulously fair" to the employer, the employee, and the public. They asserted it would bring "widepread industrial strife to an end."

They called the bill "neither drastic, oppressive, nor punitive." But the six opposing Democrats said the bill would make "practically all strikes unlawful" and "turns the clock of history back at least a century and a half."

The bill would outlaw such things as the closed shop, most collective bargaining on an industry-wide basis, many types of specific strikes, and mass picketing and violence on picket lines. It sets up a formula under which the government could cope with strikes affecting the welfare of the entire nation.

It also provides a "bill of rights" for workers intended to protect them against various union practices.

While the house made ready to begin tomorrow its debate on the far-reaching legislation, CIO leaders began to button-hole congressmen in an attempt to hold off passage of the measure.

The union leaders heard CIO President Philip Murray assert that the measures are "the first real step toward Fascism in the United States."

Attempt Spot Trifling.
Alken told a reporter he thinks Saturday's 21-7 vote by senate Republicans to keep senate labor law proposals wrapped in a single all-or-nothing bill—"an attempt to put the president on the spot."

Alken wants the measure split into three separate bills, thus giving the president a choice on some of the provisions. He threatened to carry the fight to the senate floor, contending those other Republican senators favored the split Saturday.

H. Alexander Smith of New Jersey, Saltonstall and Lodge of Massachusetts, Flanders of Vermont, Morse of Oregon, and Ives of New York.

The house and senate will debate and pass different bills, which will be kneaded into one compromise measure before congress finally sends it to the White House.

Yesterday the CIO opened a furor nationwide drive against both the house and senate bills. Murray, addressing 24 CIO leaders at an all-day meeting, lashed at the two measures as designed not only to cripple labor unions but also to create a system of totalitarianism.

He said their sponsors are "indulging themselves in a kind of drunken orgy of not labor-baiting—but actually labor destruction."

The issue of Communism hobbled up at the rally, to the dismay of many top CIO leaders.

Speaks As a Communist.
Irving Potash, president of the Fur Workers, made a speech in which he said frankly, "I speak as a Communist." He urged the delegates not to join any anti-Communist "witch hunts," but to join with Communists to defend labor unions.

Emil Rieve, president of the Textile Workers, interrupted sharply to object that Potash was out of subject of the meeting.

Later, A. R. Hardesty, CIO regional director at Dallas, Texas, said he feared there would be a "misunderstanding" because of Potash's speech.

He said the meeting should declare as a group "that we don't intend to align ourselves with the Communist party."

Dick Leonard of the UAW disagreed with Hardesty. Leonard said "I am not a Communist" nor a subscriber to Communist doctrine—but "I'll not stand idly by while the old red herring is dragged across the trail."

Hardesty said it was no red herring but "blunt facts that we have to face."

Warning By Marshall.
Secretary Marshall now has warned Moscow that the United States intends to go ahead with independence measures in its own zone to fulfill its obligations under the Moscow agreement of December 1945, providing for the establishment of a joint American-Russian commission to work out plans for instituting a provisional Korean government as the first step toward the country's independence.

Meantime, of course, Korea is going to the dogs economically and politically. The northern half of the country, occupied by the Russians, is mainly industrial, while the American zone is agricultural. The economies of the two sections are vital complements to each other, but the Russians have dropped an iron curtain across the border between the two. Behind that curtain, it's claimed by Southern Koreans, intensive communization is going on.

Senator Moore (R-Okla.), pointed up the Republican view with a week-end statement saying it was "unfortunate that the day prior to Wallace's first speech in London, making an open attack on American foreign policy, President Truman gave him (Wallace), a verbal pat on the back and began too woo him into the 1948 presidential campaign."

Moore's statement rolled off the Republican national committee's duplicating machines.

Mildred PTA Met In Regular Session On Last Wednesday

The Mildred Parent-Teacher Association met at the Mildred High School on Wednesday afternoon, April 9th, with a full attendance.

The Navarro Parent-Teacher Association has recently combined forces with the Mildred organization.

Officers for the ensuing year were elected with Mrs. Jack Cunningham as the new president.

Under the sponsorship of the Parent-Teacher Association, movement was inaugurated to organize the eligible boys of the school community into Cub Scouts.

J. P. Shanks, field executive of Circle Ten, and J. T. Newton, assistant Scout executive, from Dallas headquarters were present and explained the steps required to perfect the organization. A committee of mothers was appointed to give publicity to the plans and round up the boys from nine to twelve years and their parents for a meeting at 8 o'clock, p. m., on April 18th at Mildred High School.

At that time full details will be presented in an interesting manner by representatives of the Boy Scouts' according to announcement.

The general Republican view appears to be, however, that Mr. Truman can't eat his bipartisan cake and have Wallace, too, for whatever support the former cabinet member might be able to rally for the ticket from the self-styled liberal group.

Gaston T. Booth will have charge of a youth panel at the afternoon meeting of the Twelfth District P. T. A. conference that will be in progress here on May 1st.

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Albritton were spend-the-day visitors in Dallas on Wednesday.

ADVICE ON HOW TO CURB HARMFUL ANTS IN FLOWERS GIVEN

People who have had experience in raising flower and ornamental shrubs have probably wondered about the various sizes and colors of the ants that flock through the flower beds, says Eva Sue Merritt, county home demonstration agent.

Entomologists of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service say that these ants for the most part are not harmful to plants, says the agent. The one exception is the fire ant, which will feed on anything and often kills flowers and shrubs. Most of the other ants are harmless, and feed on the honeydew that is secreted by plant lice or on a sweet material given off by flower buds.

Ants can be killed by carbon bisulphide, which is the technical name for the old familiar "high-life," the agent says. The procedure is to locate the hill or nest and punch a hole three or four inches deep into the center of the hill with a sharp stick. Place a small funnel in the hole, pour about a tablespoon of high-life into it, and close the hole. Closing of the hole permits the fumes of the high-life to circulate through the soil and kill the whole colony.

A second treatment may be necessary in about ten days, says Miss Merritt. On large ant hills more than one hole may have to be dug in order to get results. Caution should be used, since high-life is explosive and inflammable and can kill plants if placed too close to them.

CONTROL OF MOTHS IS IMPORTANT ITEM IN STORING CLOTHING

Since cold weather is apparently gone and many housewives may soon be storing away winter clothes, the latest information concerning control measures against moth damage will probably be of interest, says Eva Sue Merritt, county home demonstration agent. Miss Merritt says that flourine solutions are being sold for home use in moth-proofing clothes. If these solutions are applied according to directions on the container, they will give good protection for a limited period. If the solution is sprayed on, the spraying must be so thorough that all parts of the fabric are moistened. It is wise to give special attention to spraying along folds, seams, pockets, under lapsels and other places where moths are easily hidden.

Mothproofing sprays differ from the ordinary moth spray, which will kill any insect on contact, but gives no lasting protection, says the agent. The mothproofing spray protects a garment by killing moths that feed on the fabric. Miss Merritt says that the new DDT mothproofing spray that is now coming on the market promises to be the best all-round spray yet developed. The DDT spray combines the good points of the other sprays. It kills moths on contact and leaves an effective residue on the fabric that gives further protection. USDA is still conducting tests on the DDT mothproofing spray, but all the evidence so far points to very effective results.

If you use any mothproofing solution, check the list of ingredients to see that arsenic is not listed. If it is, Miss Merritt advises against using the solution in clothing, blankets, upholstery or any fabric that may come into contact with the skin.

IOOF World Head Praises Lodge Here For Work

Judge C. A. Wheeler of Austin grand master of the Sovereign Grand Lodge of the World, congratulated Corsicana Lodge No. 63, IOOF, Thursday night on the appearance of the lodge room (winner of first place in the state contest) and the presentability of the members.

He said the local lodge room was the only one in North America where emblems of the order are found in every window. He also congratulated the degree team as putting on the third degree better than he has seen since 1933 when Greenville had a crack lodge.

He spoke of the increase in membership and interest in all branches of the Order, and said that the remainder of North America is looking to Texas since the Lone Star State is rebuilding lodges and its Home here.

Sherman C. Reed, Dallas, past grand master, said $93,000 had been raised by public subscription as love offerings toward the new Home here and only $31,000 was needed to complete it.

Lem Wray, Waxahatchie, grand warden, said all Texas points with pride to the mother lodge (Corsicana) that has contributed more than 5 percent of the campaign for the new home, while Dr. H. L. Stewart, Navasota, vice chairman of the board of trustees, said the eyes of Texas and the nation had been on Corsicana for what this lodge had done for the Home.

Other speakers included Frank R. Rundell, Austin, deputy grand master; J. A. Kelso, Austin, district deputy grand master; J. W. Hampton, Dallas, grand treasurer; S. H. (Scout) Clark, Farmers Branch, president of the Ex-Students Association; Ed M. Polk, Sr.; M. M. Madison, Sweetwater, chairman of the board of trustees and past grand master; Conley Lovelace, superintendent of the Home; H. H. Lummis, Ennis, grand scribe, grand encampment, and others.

The board of trustees held its April meeting at the IOOF Home here Thursday afternoon.

Investigate Before Buying Rent Property

It's a good idea to check with the Area Rent Officer before buying residential property for rental purposes, J. S. Murchison, area rent director reminded prospective purchasers today.

"With today's realty prices inflated as they are, some purchasers have found their legal return from their property was considerably less than they counted on when they paid such a high price for the property," he explained.

The first thing disillusioned buyers usually do, the rent official said, is to ask him for permission to raise the rent to a level proportionate to the purchase price.

"Since ceiling rents remain with the property, regardless of change of ownership, we can't adjust rents simply because the new owner may have paid too high a price for the property. To do so would be unfair to the tenant, and would raise the rent for that unit above rents for comparable housing in this area."

Maximum rents for all residential property in the three county area is on file in the local office and available to persons considering the purchase of property.

"A check up in advance can save many a financial headache later," Murchison commented.

FIVE-RING RAILROAD CIRCUS TO BE HERE THURSDAY, APRIL 17

One of America's largest circuses traveling by railroad will present performances in Corsicana Thursday, April 17.

Not a truck show but a modern Five-Ring railroad circus, Dalley Bros. Circus will present performances at 3 and 8 p. m. at showgrounds east of the Cotton Mill.

Traveling aboard its own special train of 35 double-length railroad cars, the Dalley Bros. Circus will arrive in the Southern Pacific railroad yards during the early morning hours of show day and spectators are invited to witness unloading of the many animals, the heavy wagons and other equipment carried by a large circus.

The circus carries a herd of 25 elephants, the herd including Tillie, world's only "talking" elephant. Elephants are directed by Pretty 35-year old Norma Davenport.

Beautiful pinto and Palomino horses directed by Miss Hazel King, present interesting and entertaining routines. A $50,000 horse fair includes such famous blue ribbon winners as Lipstick, Major and Black Diamond.

The two-hour performance includes a wild animal act in which lions, tigers and other wild beasts are subdued in a huge steel arena by Joseph Horwat, internationally famous trainer; a sensational sky swing by 40 beautiful girls; daring aerial and wire-walking acts; a score of clowns with their rib-tickling antics and many other features. St. Kitchie, famous head banger, will balance on his head on the bar of a swinging trapeze.

The circus carries a large menagerie of animals from the far corners of the earth. Among the scores of animals to be seen are the only Polar bears exhibited by any circus. Doors will open an hour before performance time to allow ample time for inspection of the menagerie and horse fair.

O. L. ALBRITTON CHOSEN "MAN OF YEAR" BY CORSICANA ROTARY CLUB AT ANNUAL "ANNS" DINNER

O. L. Albritton, hard working chairman of the Navarro Junior College board of trustees, was named as Rotary's Man of the Year, as a climax to the 28th annual Rotary Ann Dinner, held at the Corsicana Country Club on Thursday night.

Rex T. Bounds, retiring president of the club, made the presentation of the scroll.

Declaring that Albritton has been constant in his work with his church, the chamber of commerce, the 4-H Clubs, and has always been a vital factor in advancing educational and agricultural causes, Bounds told the Rotarians and their wives, "he is constantly driving his fellow members of the junior college board to do more and more for the school."

Albritton has been with the school since its inception, handling many details of its founding and establishment.

"He is modest," Bounds said "he has never sought any recognition or publicity."

Albritton credited the staff of the college and other members of the board with its success.

"The college means a lot to these kids who cannot help themselves," he said.

Appreciation Expressed

"I appreciate this honor. I hardly know what to say. But I thank you."

Moyle L. Kelley, president-elect who will take office in July, was introduced by Bounds as last year's award winner.

In the beautifully decorated dining room, the Rotarians and their Anns had mostly fun Thursday night.

"Prizes" Given Winners

Prizes, the cost of which failed to put any appreciable strain on the club's treasury, totaling about 18 cents on an over-all basis, were awarded winners in the Rotary Ann's object-search contest. Cheving gum—not the package but the pieces—was given in this contest.

In another, in which the women were pitted against the men in a ring passing race, the men won, received a candy bar—one candy bar, nine men.

Singing, featuring a quartet of members, was led by D. D. Murray. Dinner music included numbers by Beverly Henson, pianist, and Miss Exa Claire Love, a vocalist.

O. L. ALBRITTON

ing accordionist. Miss Jimmie Ruth Thompson, Navarro Junior College student, played a piano solo.

Impersonations Given

Impersonations of four well-known Corsicana men were given by Luther A. Johnson Jr. It was not necessary to name them after Johnson publicly presented the characteristics. They were Jack Stroube, president of the Optimist Club, Sam Werner, president of the Lions Club, R. A. Armistead, president of the Civitan Club, who with their wives were guests of the club, and Bounds.

The invocation was given by the Rev. Erwin F. Bohmfalk. R. R. Rubottom Jr., was toastmaster.

BEATON AT THIRD

FROM THE TEXAS BUTANE DEALERS ASSOCIATION:-

An Important Message TO THOSE WHO USE OR PLAN TO USE BUTANE or PROPANE

The Texas Butane Dealers Association urges you to check up on your present system. If your tank is not capable of serving you through the four winter months, you may find yourself without heat in the coldest season of the year.

New industries developed during the War—plastics, synthetics and chemicals—now demand tremendous amounts of butane and propane. These industries use gas in equal amounts all year 'round. Meanwhile, domestic gas users burn four to seven times more in winter than in summer; but your dealer will be able to furnish you very little more in winter than in summer. To ease this high winter demand, users must spread that demand over the warmer months as well. The solution is a tank which will hold a four-months supply.

For "Winter-Insurance" the farmer stores his grain early, just as housewives do their canning early. For your "Winter-Insurance" you'll have your four-months supply in your tank when you need it most. And by taking less time for your dealer's services, he can supply you and your neighbors more efficiently and economically at the very time when road conditions are worst for gas delivery.

The Texas Butane Dealers Association urges you to drop in to see your local gas dealer as soon as possible. Consult him before you buy any system. He knows butane and propane, and he will do everything he can to cooperate with you for next winter—now!

See Your Local Butane Gas Dealer Today!
